

English (BA): Literature Concentration

Core Curriculum

The undergraduate major in English is built around a 12-hour core consisting of two literature classes and two courses from the following categories: Film, Linguistics, Creative Writing, and Rhetoric. In addition to the 12-hour core, students take an additional 27 hours of course work in the major.

The Literature concentration provides a strong general education with an emphasis on the study of literature through interdisciplinary approaches. Attentive to the roles played by new media, diversity, and globalization, this concentration is also informed by the emerging field of digital humanities. It leads to a broad range of careers in education, business, government, law, etc. The major includes 27 hours of literature courses including seven courses that satisfy categorical requirements and two that meet the core requirements. Students have an additional 6 hours of English electives.

Career Opportunities

A degree in English provides both liberal education and practical knowledge about the role of writing and language in the everyday world. It leads to careers in such fields as teaching, journalism, advertising, public relations, personnel management, technical writing, business writing, and creative writing. It sharpens the analytical and interpretive skills needed for professional and managerial careers, and it serves as an excellent preparation for students planning to study law or medicine and for those intending to do graduate work in literature, linguistics, film, or rhetoric.
