

Interdisciplinary Scholars (Certificate): Alexander Hamilton Scholars

Interdisciplinary Scholars are students admitted to two majors in different colleges in order to combine scientific or management studies with a focus in the humanities or social sciences. These students develop skills in multiple fields to tackle complex problems.

Alexander Hamilton Scholars receive degrees from the Poole College of Management and in one of five majors in CHASS that have an international focus. Hamilton Scholars prepare to become well-rounded business professionals who are knowledgeable about international issues and have skills to function successfully in cross-cultural settings.
