

World Languages and Cultures (BA): Spanish Language and Literature Concentration

At NC State, we understand that not all students are alike. Some might want to become teachers, others have their sights set on becoming business executives or architects and want to supplement their skills with a double major or minor with a concentration in Spanish. We can help you find your path and get you started.

All the general requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree must be met. Click on the Plan Requirements link to see what that includes. The degree designation is B.A. in World Languages and Cultures with a concentration in Spanish Language and Literatures. Outstanding students in this major may become members of Sigma Delta Pi, National Hispanic Honor Society.

² Free Electives: Any course except MA 101 Intermediate Algebra, WL_101, WLSP 105 Intensive Elementary Spanish, WLLA 101 Elementary Latin I, WLGR 101 Elementary Greek I, and WLPE 101 Elementary Persian I. 101-level world language courses can be used as free electives if they are in languages other than the language the student uses to fulfill major language requirement. Only 12 credit hours of free electives may be taken for credit only (S/U).

Study Abroad/Internship Abroad: It is strongly recommended that students participate in at least one study abroad experience to a Spanish-speaking country. Please note that no more than 15 hours of transfer credit (from a non-NCSU program) may be applied towards the major. NCSU sponsored programs count as regular coursework.

Career Opportunities

The expansion of international relations makes the knowledge of world languages a critical need for today's professional. The student of world languages is not limited to teaching, translating or interpreting. There are careers in politics, diplomacy, commerce, business, agriculture, science, and research in which a thorough knowledge of world languages and cultures is crucial for success. The demand for multilingual personnel extends to all fields of human enterprise and will continue to grow in the coming years.
